With the help of EmbedPress, you can embed Google Slides to WordPress, using just a URL.

Google Slides is a presentation program and it is a part of a free, web-based software office suite provided by Google along with its Google Drive service. It helps users to create, edit and upload presentations online while collaborating with other users in real-time.

You can embed Google Slides in WordPress, but it is not simple to embed by using standard methods. EmbedPress is a different and unique plugin. With EmbedPress, you don’t need to entangle around with embed codes. All you need is the URL of the presentation that you have published on Google slides.

Here’s how to embed any Google Slides into your WordPress site, using the EmbedPress plugin and a URL.

Before you go any further, let’s check that your URL can be embedded on another site.

Paste the URL into a different browser where you aren’t logged into Google. Can you still see the presentation? If you can’t, then the Google Sheets file hasn’t been correctly published to the web. Read the documentation here.

Step 2: Embed Google Slides In Gutenberg

Now you have the Google Slides URL, you can add it to WordPress.

First, Go to your WordPress site. Open a post or page then click on the ‘+’ icon in the editing area. Search for the ‘EmbedPress’ block and select it. Embed the URL of your Google Slides presentation there. Click the ‘Embed’ button and you’ll now see your Google Slides embed:
